

HANDMADE JOURNALS FROM INDIA

B2B export catalogue

Vintage Diaries

Artisanal heritage. Scaled for global trade.

A considered wholesale collection for importers, distributors, giftware, stationery, museum retail, boutique retail, and corporate gifting buyers.

THE CELTIC STAR

Collection and commercial framework

MADE EXCLUSIVELY TO ORDER | OPENING MOQ 200 PIECES

Old-world character. Modern trade clarity.

Vintage Diaries is a focused B2B collection from India for buyers who value tactile character and the considered workmanship behind a carefully finished product.

OUR POINT OF VIEW

Craft is the story. Trade clarity is the structure.

A focused collection, clear quotation process, practical opening order, private-label possibilities, and pre-dispatch proof help professional buyers evaluate both product character and commercial fit.

DESIGNED FOR TRADE

- 01 Giftware wholesalers
- 02 Stationery buyers
- 03 Museum and bookstore retail
- 04 Boutique and specialty stores
- 05 Corporate gifting companies

BUYER PROPOSITION

Focused product. Clear trade terms. Visible quality proof.

Hand-finished in measured stages.

Each commercial batch is commissioned to order and moves through sequenced stages of skilled work, material handling, finishing, and inspection.

- 01

Prepare

Paper, leatherette cover components, and design details are prepared against the approved specification.
- 02

Bind

Pages and cover construction move through the appropriate hand-guided binding sequence.
- 03

Detail

Motifs, closures, hardware, and branding elements are completed according to feasibility.
- 04

Finish

The batch receives careful surface, edge, closure, and presentation review.
- 05

Inspect

Finished units, individual packing, cartons, dimensions, and shipping marks are documented.

PRODUCTION PRINCIPLE

Specification over assumption. Proof over promises.

A realistic production window supports the workmanship required for a consistent commercial batch.

Distinct silhouettes, one considered opening order.

A focused assortment of hand-finished journals, each carrying the slight character and material depth

Make the journal recognisably yours.

Branding is reviewed around your artwork, channel, and selected journal construction. Each added detail is assessed for technical feasibility, its place in the finishing sequence, and its effect on the production schedule.

01

Cover identity

Logo placement, embossing feasibility, and finish are reviewed against the selected leatherette cover surface before artwork approval.

02

Retail presentation

Branded belly bands, insert cards, or sleeves can be considered for the intended retail environment.

03

Gift-ready packing

Individual boxes or presentation packs can be reviewed for corporate and premium gifting projects.

04

Artwork workflow

Share vector artwork, review feasibility, approve scale and position, then include branding in pre-dispatch proof.

See the relevant details before commitment and dispatch.

Visual evaluation supports buyer review before confirmation; pre-dispatch proof makes the finished commercial batch visible before carrier handover.

BEFORE ORDERING

Visual evaluation

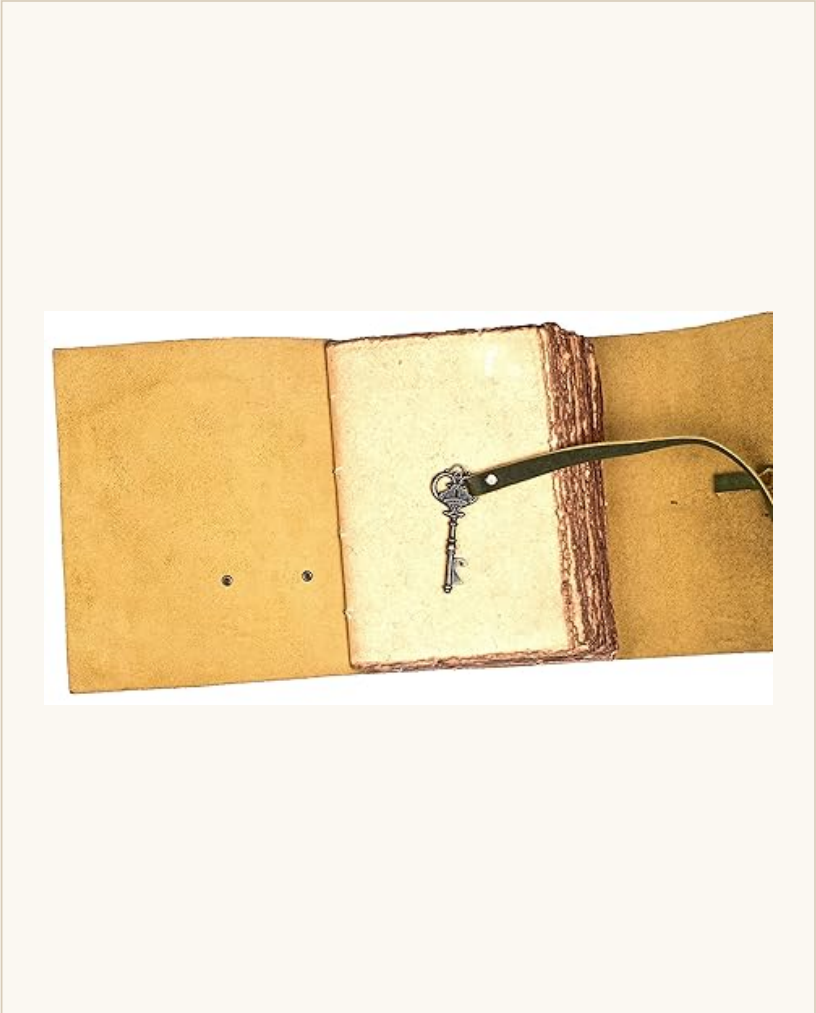

- Detailed product photographs
- Material and page close-ups
- Page-flip videos
- Live video presentation

BEFORE CARRIER HANDOVER

Pre-dispatch proof

- Final batch photographs
- Page-flip and close-up videos
- Individual-pack images
- Outer-carton photos
- Dimensions and shipping marks

Physical samples sit outside the current production model. Opening commercial orders begin at 200 pieces.

From individual presentation to carrier handover.

Packing is the final stage of the making process, protecting approved surfaces and presentation before carrier handover.

01

Individual protection

Approved box, sleeve, belly band, or gift-pack format according to the confirmed product specification.

02

Count and orientation

Units arranged for practical handling, with quantity and presentation checked before carton closure.

03

Outer-carton proof

Carton condition, dimensions, markings, and finished preparation shown before handover.

EXPORT DOCUMENTATION

Formal trade paperwork.

We trade against formal export documentation and can share the relevant pro forma invoice format, packaging details, and shipment paperwork references during the quoting process.
